Hall of Fame Richer by Six

Clemson's Athletic Hall of Fame becomes richer by six today when the third annual induction takes place at halftime.

The Association of Tiger Lettermen are sponsors of the Hall of Fame. Association members make nominations to the hall, and inductees are then chosen by the board of directors with the final decision being made by a blue ribbon panel whose members include the university's president, athletic director and faculty chairman, the president of IPTAY, and president of the letterman's association.

The 1975 inductees include James G. (Mutt) Gee, who lettered in baseball and football 1914-1917; the late B. C. (Stumpy) Banks, a five-year football star with the Tigers from 1915 to 1919; Taylor M. (Mac) Folger, football and track star of 1934-36; Charlie Woods, Jr., football standout from 1936-38; H. R. (Randy) Mahaffey, basketball star 1965-67; and special inductee, Capt. Frank J. Jervy, supporter, counselor and benefactor of the university since his graduation in 1914.

Previously inducted into the Hall of Fame were Frank Howard, Joe Blalock, Banks McFadden, Fred Cone, W. A. Schilletter, Billy O'Dell, Bob Jones, Joe Landrum, Joel Wells, Bill Yarborough, John Maxwell and A. W. (Rock) Norman. Blalock, Schilletter and Maxwell are deceased.

Gee, who was all-state in football in both 1916 and 1917, and All-Southern in 1917, was called by his coach, E. A. "Jiggs" Donahue, as "one of the best men I have ever seen at center." Donahue said Gee "ranks easily with the best centers in the south" prior to the opening of the 1917 season. The Tigers went on to compile a 6-2 that year.

Gee, a veteran of both World Wars where he rose to rank of colonel, spent most of his life in the education field, serving as president of East Texas State University in Commerce, Texas, from Sept. 1, 1947 until Sept. 1, 1966.

Prior to that the Union native, who received his master's from Cornell and his doctor of philosophy degree from Peabody, taught at Sam Houston State and also served as its acting president, was head of the Department of Agriculture Education at Florida before returning to serve as Clemson's athletic director for three years in 1927.

In his 19-year tenure as president, East Texas State experienced its greatest period of academic and physical growth, going from an evaluation of $1.8 million to over $20 million.

Banks entered Clemson in 1914 as a 105-pound quarterback, and although his feats are almost legendary on the football field, he is probably remembered most as manning the sideline chains at virtually all Clemson games for 35 years.

He was synonymous with "Big Thursday" and he never played on a team that lost to South Carolina. It was said that "Stumpy has become almost as much a part of the tradition of Big Thursday as the governor's crossing at halftime." He saw his first Clemson-South Carolina game in 1909 and first carried the chain in 1920. He only missed three games until his death in 1961.

Banks was awarded an extra year of play due to the World War effect on eligibility, and he went on to become one of Clemson's greatest backs.

He was team captain two years, all-state three years and All-Southern in 1919. He has been listed on the All-Clemson team covering from 1896 to 1935.

Banks coached at Clemson in 1920, at a prep school in Mississippi in 1922 and at Tallulah, La., for two years before returning to his native St. Matthews for two years before closing out his coaching career another pair of years at Carlisle Military Academy. He played semi-pro baseball as a catcher until 1939.

Banks was the fifth of six brothers to graduate from Clemson. Two of them were awarded the Norris Medal, emblematic of the best all-around student in the senior class.

Captain Frank Jervey

Jervey is known to his legion of friends as "Mr. Clemson" because of his many contributions to the university.

The magnificent Jervey Athletic Center, which houses the Clemson Athletic Department, was named in his honor "as a tribute to an alumnus whose life personifies the true meaning of service and loyalty to an institution."

In his dedicatory remarks Clemson president Dr. Robert C. Edwards described Jervey as a man whose "intense interest in and great loyalty to Clemson has never waived for the slightest moment." Edwards also noted that Jervey's "considerable talents and skills have always been at Clemson's service."

Born at Summerville, Jervey served with the Army in World War I after his graduation from Clemson. He was wounded in 1918 during the battle of France and decorated for extraordinary heroism.

Jervey later served in the Ordnance Corps and became one of the world's foremost authorities on incendiary and small arms ammunition. For his contributions to the nation's war effort in World War II, he was awarded the Exceptional Civilian Service emblem at the Pentagon.

Jervey, who was presented an honorary Doctor of Science degree from Clemson in 1953, served as Clemson's vice president for development from 1959-63. He received the Alumni Distinguished Service Award the first year they were given in 1960, and was greatly instrumental in obtaining two grants totaling nearly $2 million from the Olin Foundation for construction and equipping of the ceramic and chemical engineering buildings on the campus.

The captain, who comes to "his office" in the Jervey Building seven days a week, will celebrate his 82nd birthday November 27th.

Woods has been called by former Clemson football coach Frank Howard "by far the best center who has played here."

He played this position three seasons (1936-38), receiving a BS degree in mechanical engineering in 1939.

During his football career at Clemson he was named to the All-South and the All-Southern teams in 1937 and was all-state in 1937 and 1938. He served as captain of the 1938 team which was 7-1-1. In Woods' three years of varsity competition the Tigers were 16-10-2.

Woods joined the Bailey Meter Company of Cleveland, Ohio, upon graduation and was associated with this firm until 1941 when he entered service. He rose to the rank of major, being discharged in 1946.

After brief periods with Bailey Meter and United Cork Company in the post-war period, Woods joined the Southern Cement Company in Atlanta in 1951 as a salesman.

Woods was later promoted to assistant sales manager and then to sales manager of the Atlanta District which put him in charge of the supervision and sales of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Eastern Tennessee. He is now vice president in charge of sales.

Charlie Woods

Mac Folger

Folger established himself as a two-sport star in his sophomore year of 1934. He was an alternate fullback that season, the year IPTAY was born.

The Tigers had suffered under a record of 7-17-5 under Coach Jess Neely's first three years. But the '34 Tigers posted a 5-4-0 record during Folger's sophomore year and followed it with 6-3 and 5-5 seasons.

Folger led Clemson in scoring with 36 points in 1935, and the same season was the leading rusher, owning a 3.6 yard average on his 522 yards.

The following season, he again was the leading scorer with 48 points and was named to the all-state and All-South Atlantic squads.

But Folger probably claimed his most attention in track where he specialized in the 220 low hurdles.

In his sophomore and junior years, Folger tallied 41 points in track, winning his specialty six times. But in his senior year he bettered his point output (58) for the first two years combined and won the 220 low hurdles six times.

He set a school record in this event at the Southern Conference Track Meet in 1936 with a time of 23.5 seconds. During his career he took 15 first places.

Folger retired three years ago from an executive position with the Taylor-Colquitt Company. He was associated with the Spartanburg-based firm over 30 years.

Mahaffey was the third of four brothers to play basketball for the Tigers over a 12-year period.

Randy went on to play professional ball, with most of his time being spent with the Carolina Cougars.

However, now all four brothers are in the plywood and lumber business in Atlanta.

Randy played in 73 varsity games for the Tigers beginning in 1964-65. That season he led Clemson in seven categories, including field goal percentage (49.8), free throws attempted (155), free throws made (108), rebounds (224), rebound average (9.7), points scored (398) and scoring average (17.3).

For his efforts he was named second team, All-Atlantic Coast Conference, as well as to the All-ACC academic team. He was a unanimous pick for the all-state team.

Mahaffey was also named to the All-Poinsettia Classic team as a sophomore and was chosen on the All-VPI Invitational as a junior. During his senior year (1966-67) writers chose him on the All-ACC first team and he was a second team selection in the ACC Tournament.

Randy averaged in double figures all of his three varsity years and owned a career average of 16.0. His 1,171 points make him the sixth leading scorer in Tiger history.

And when he graduated he held the school career record in rebounds (705), passing his two older brothers, Tommy, who had 649, and Donnie, who had 666. However, Richie, the last of the four, kept the trend intact, going ahead of his three brothers with 707. Randy still has the best rebound average of anybody in Clemson history at 9.7.

Clemson is proud to salute six of its own today with induction into the Hall of Fame: Dr. James Gilliam Gee, Capt. Frank Johnstone Jervy, Bertram Cecil (Stumpy) Banks, Taylor McDuffie (Mac) Folger, Charles Woods, Jr., and Harry Randolph (Randy) Mahaffey.

HALL OF FAME

1975 CLEMSON MOTHER OF THE YEAR

Coaches are always saying that good players make them look good. Listening to Mrs. Edward Ducworth, Clemson's 1975 Mother of the Year, you get the impression that she had some good "players" but looking at the results, it is not hard to realize that she has done a good job herself.

Mrs. Ducworth, honored by Tiger Brotherhood in their annual selection of a deserving mother, lives in Anderson and is the backbone of a family that has had five children, one daughter and four sons, the latter of whom all played football at Clemson.

"I am just thankful for my children," said Mrs. Ducworth after learning she had been selected for the award. "They made our lives so interesting and have always been easy to be around."

A 1942 graduate of Lander College, Mrs. Ducworth has been an active member of church and community groups as well as bringing up five children. A member of the Hopewell Baptist Church, Mrs. Ducworth is presently a member of the Anderson Woman's Club, the Electric City Garden Club, and the Robert E. Lee United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The first of the five children, Sally (Mrs. Duncan Fordham) was a graduate of Winthrop and is the mother of two daughters, Amy and Amanda.

Following the daughter, the Ducworths had four boys, Ronnie, George, Tommy, and C. H., all of whom have been members of the Tiger football teams, beginning in 1966 and ending with C. H. who is presently a junior.

Ronnie, now the proud father of a son, Jason, was a member of Frank Howard's Tigers during the 1966-67-68 seasons, a period in which Clemson was the Atlantic Coast Conference champions two times. Ronnie was an All-ACC selection and All-State during both his junior and senior years from his defensive end spot.

Brother George was a standout defensive end and later linebacker for the last two seasons of the Howard era (1968, 69) and the first year under Hootie Ingram (1970). Following George, was Tommy who lettered at middle guard during the 1973 season.

The last of the Ducworth brothers, C. H., is presently one of the defensive ends, following in the family tradition, for Red Parker's 1975 Tigers. He also earned a letter at that spot during the 1974 season.

"It has been real rewarding having sons on the football team at Clemson," said Mrs. Ducworth. "We have had some fine times going to the games throughout the years."

When asked if the sister, Sally, being the oldest, took care of the younger brothers, Mrs. Ducworth replied, "She was at Winthrop but did not miss many weekends coming up to see the games, she was always real proud of her brothers."

On what kind of note did the experiences with Clemson begin? "A very surprising one, because Ronnie had a broken ankle and missed most of his senior year of football at T. L. Hanna and we were real surprised when Clemson gave him a scholarship.

"The people at Clemson have been real good to us down through the years," said Mrs. Ducworth. "My boys always had a lot of respect for Coach Howard and everyone else."

Mrs. Ducworth also pointed out Clemson's academic advisor, Rick Robbins, as a sure point for her sons.

"They always considered him a real friend and surely think a lot of him and his family.

"We have always had a good time at Clemson and are grateful to them for giving my sons a chance to play football and get an education at the same time," Mrs. Ducworth said.

And you can be assured that the Tiger family is glad to have had the four sons, with the help from a sister, that Mrs. Ducworth has put forth. The have been a fine reflection on the talents of her and her husband. For this, Mrs. Ducworth has been chosen to the honor for which she will be honored today.

Mrs. Edward Ducworth, Tiger Brotherhood's 1975 selection as Mother of the Year, overlooks the trophies and mementoes of her four sons' playing days at Clemson.

Memorial Stadium and exciting football is a tradition at Clemson University. The enthusiastic support for Clemson athletics by students, alumni and friends reflects this tradition in a most positive manner. It is a tradition which we wear with pride, one which we warmly share with you this Saturday afternoon in welcoming you to campus.

If you'll get to know us better you'll find we have other equally long-standing traditions . . . other traditions of continuing commitment and meaning.

One which will impress you immediately is Clemson's tradition of concern for people. Clemson is no Ivory Tower University. Its heartbeat is always alert to people's needs; its pulse renders service in all 46 counties of South Carolina. That's what this University has been about for more than 80 years. This commitment was first made for us by our founder, Thomas Green Clemson, who almost a century ago saw the great need in this State for a scientifically oriented institution of higher learning that would provide our young people with the training needed to build a better society.

As the years passed, the scope and mission of Clemson's services to the State and Nation have enlarged. Institutions — like individuals — do not stand still. Clemson is engaged in teaching, research and public service in those areas associated with a land-grant institution actively seeking to meet the needs of the people it serves. As their needs vary or change, Clemson adjusts its capabilities for service. Today, as we watch the football game, this University is responding to a wide range of problems affecting South Carolinians and people everywhere. It is a people-to-people commitment to which Clemson and its resources are totally dedicated.

Exciting football is the basic character of Memorial Stadium; relating to people is the basic character of Clemson University.

Let's make getting together a tradition. We'll learn a lot from each other. This is your campus. Come back as often as possible.

Athletic Director — BILL McLELLAN

A man for all seasons is Bill McLellan, a 43-year old native of Hamer, S. C., who has crossed every plateau in Clemson's rapidly expanding athletic program. And since he assumed the top position in the department over four years ago, Clemson athletics and excellence have been synonymous.

One might say that Clemson has been McLellan's home for 25 years, because since his graduation from high school he's been in Tigertown.

First, as a student-athlete when he played for the legendary Frank Howard. And during his undergraduate days, McLellan earned a pair of grid letters and was a member of Clemson's 1952 Gator Bowl team. He graduated from the University in 1954.

Two years later he earned his master's in agricultural economics, and the following two years he served the school in that department.

McLellan's second and long-lasting association with Clemson's athletic family began May 1, 1958, when he was appointed assistant business manager.

Although he held that title until 1966, McLellan served the athletic department in almost every imaginable area—from ticket managing and distribution, ordering and maintaining the equipment for all sports, and when the regular office staff turned out their lights upon completion of another day's work, McLellan journeyed out to the football field where he assisted his former coach with the grid duties.

In 1966, McLellan was appointed assistant athletic director, was named associate athletic director a couple of years later, and on Feb. 4, 1971, became the school's third director of athletics.

And it's been since that latter date that Clemson's athletic program has made tremendous strides.

Under McLellan's leadership, the entire athletic family relocated in the modern Frank Johnstone Jervy Center on West campus, and it's in this eye-catching structure where the dedicated Tiger AD makes his daily decisions in an effort to keep Clemson in the national limelight.

McLellan has directed improvements in all athletic areas, from aluminum seats for spectator comfort in Clemson Memorial Stadium to the most recent improvement in the program—the completion of the eight-lane swimming pool and the separate diving tank in Fike Recreation Center.

Certainly the men's varsity program speaks for itself—like the football team recording its best record a year ago since a 9-2 finish in 1959, and like the basketball team achieving its first-ever national ranking and making its first-ever trip to post-season tournament play, and like the soccer team recording its third straight ACC crown and third straight berth to the NCAA playoffs, and like the baseball team experiencing its 18th consecutive winning campaign on its way to the NCAA playoffs.

However, McLellan has directed his efforts to the overall program, including the intramural department for Clemson faculty, staff, and students alike, and the most recent addition of a women's athletic program.

A year ago, the former was in its second year of a five-year McLellan-engineered plan, as the intramural department had grown to the point that it now requires four full-time staff directors.

And last year, the Tigers fielded women's teams in fencing, swimming and tennis, with the latter posting a fine 10-2 record. Then this winter, a Clemson women's basketball team will join that trio.

So it's been a constant climb by Clemson's athletic program under the leadership of Bill McLellan, and a climb that will certainly continue as the Tigers seek an overall program second to none.

McLellan is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, and they have two daughters, Suzy, a sophomore at Winthrop, and Arch Anna, and two sons, Bill and Cliff.

Head Football Coach—RED PARKER

1974 Atlantic Coast Conference and South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year

In just two short years at Clemson University, Red Parker has given Tiger fans something to howl about. And whereas the howl from Tigertown has been a pleasant one, a howl of reverent awe has been heard from Clemson opponents.

Because in those two years—1973 and 1974—Parker's Tigers have netted almost 8,000 yards of total offense, and have scored more points (477) than Clemson managed in 34 previous games (475) prior to his arrival at Tigertown.

And last fall, in just his sophomore campaign, Parker led Clemson to its best finish with a 7-4 won-lost figure since the 1959 Bluebonnet Bowl Tigers posted a 9-2 slate.

Along the way the Tigers knocked off a pair of opponents who would go on to post-season bowl affairs, and because of Clemson's tie for second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Redhead was tabbed as both the league's and State of South Carolina's Coach-of-the-Year in 1974.

A native of Hampton, Ark., Parker was a standout in football, baseball, and track at Arkansas A&M, graduating in 1953.

After a couple of months in a summer baseball league, the Redhead was appointed prep mentor at Fordyce, Ark., High School, a school that was experiencing the misfortune of a 22-game grid losing streak.

But in eight seasons with Parker at the helm, Fordyce lost but a dozen games on its way to an impressive 75-12-4 record which included a 37-game winning streak.

In 1961 Parker returned to his alma mater as head coach, remaining there for five seasons. During his stay, A&M posted a 29-19-2 record, including a 24-5-1 ledger from 1963-65, and a pair of league titles.

Meanwhile, The Citadel had launched a search for a head coach who had a winning tradition, and that's how the Redhead became a Palmetto State resident.

And from 1966 through 1972, the Bulldogs established themselves as one of the most respected and dangerous grid teams in the Southern Conference, all because Parker introduced the veer offense to the area, and it didn't take long to leave its mark.

The 1971 Cadet squad raced to a fine 8-3 record, scored 366 points, and chalked up over 5,000 yards of total offense that season which ranked The Citadel as the nation's fourth-leading producer of real estate.

Parker's seven-year stand in Charleston gave the Bulldogs a 39-34 won-lost column.

His fourth head coaching position in as many schools is the one for which Tiger followers are grateful, because in December of 1972, the Smilin' Redhead became Clemson's 19th head coach.

Armed with his potent veer offense, Parker's enthusiasm and determination to make the Tigers a winner resulted in a 5-6 record his first season at Clemson and a third place finish in the ACC behind bowl-bound N. C. State and Maryland.

And last season's 7-4 record gave the Redhead a two-year Clemson mark of 12-10, and a 14-year head coaching record of 80-63-2 in the college ranks.

Prior to his initial grid campaign at Clemson, Parker promised to leave no stone unturned nor any avenue unexplored in an effort to put the Tigers' football fortunes along side of the country's top powers.

For the past two seasons, the Tigers' football fortunes have definitely been on the upswing. And if his past record is any indication of what to expect, then Parker's Tigers should continue to show improvement with each grid campaign.

Parker and his wife, the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark., have three children—Mrs. Vicki Wallace; Cindy, a student at Clemson; and Jim Mack.

Parker and '74 Tig Quarterback Mark Fellers discuss strategy.

An extra paycheck every month...that's one of the benefits of the Air Force Reserve. And as your rank goes up, so does the amount of that paycheck. All we ask of your time is one weekend a month and two weeks active duty during the year.

There are low-cost insurance plans, retirement benefits. An opportunity to learn a new skill or maybe sharpen up the one you used to have in the service. And the new faces and experiences of a Reserve weekend could be just the change you need in your regular routine.

If you had prior service bring yourself and your experience back to the Air Force Reserve. You'll benefit and so will the country. So, if you are between the ages of 17-34, call toll free 800-447-4700 (in Illinois call 800-322-4400) for the location of your nearest Air Force Reserve recruiter. Or, just send in the coupon.

WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY describes the Tiger as "a large tawny black-striped Asiatic flesh-eating mammal related to the cat." And the largest and what is probably the best specimen in captivity in the Palmetto State is Boris, a Siberian Tiger which is housed at the Columbia Zoological Park.

Prior to the 1970 football season, the Tiger Paw was adopted to help distinguish the Clemson Tiger from the many other Tigers at schools such as Auburn, Princeton, LSU, Memphis State and Missouri. It did not serve as a replacement to the Tiger, but as something to go along with our Clemson Tiger.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR IPTAY

For the first time in history, Clemson IPTAY members contributed over three quarters of a million dollars to the Clemson athletic program for the fiscal year of 1974-75.

The highly-successful 12 month period also marked the 11th consecutive year that IPTAY funds had increased over the previous year.

Altogether, $854,500 were contributed by 10,706 individuals and business firms. This represented 114 per cent of the goal set by the officers and directors.

The State of South Carolina reached 115 per cent of its goal, North Carolina netted 108 per cent, Georgia 117 and the remaining states 108.

Breaking down the various categories, final figures show there were 7,360 $20 IPTAY members, 2,193 who were $100 Gold Carders, 750 in the $250 Gold Card listing, 281 who were $500 Gold Cards, 84 who were a Tiger Donor ($1,000) and 38 who were Scholarship Donors ($2,000).

Kershaw County paced the Palmetto State by making 146 per cent of its goal. In second place was Allendale County with 138 per cent, third spot went to Berkeley with 132 per cent and with 127 per cent in fourth place was Newberry County.

Rounding out the top counties were Calhoun and Hampton, each with 125 per cent; Dorchester, Lexington, Greenville and Charleston Counties with 124 per cent each; and Anderson with 123 per cent.

Again, Greenville County raised the largest contributions of any other county in the state with $132,790, nearly twice as much as Richland's $66,560.

The Top Ten was rounded out with Anderson ($61,140), Pickens ($59,360), Spartanburg ($53,590), Greenwood ($24,030), Florence ($23,910), Lexington ($22,630), Orangeburg ($19,110) and Charleston ($17,580).

IPTAY was organized in 1934 by the late Dr. Ruppert H. (Rube) Fike with one purpose in mind—to finance athletic scholarships for Clemson's intercollegiate program. And since that time, not one single penny has gone for anything else other than scholarships for Clemson athletics. This year there will be 12 sports in the program as the Tigers will field a wrestling team for the first time.

Thousands of student-athletes have received an education through IPTAY, which may not have been possible otherwise. And many of these athletes have brought honor to themselves and Clemson by being named to All-America, all-conference and all-state teams. In 20 years existence of the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Tigers have won 13 outright conference championships and shared another.

Membership in IPTAY is open to anyone interested in helping Clemson students who participate in one or more of the 12 sports which the Tigers field. Gifts to IPTAY are matched by most matching gift companies.

IPTAY members receive ticket priority in football and basketball over everybody else, and season ticket IPTAY orders are always filled first.

Forest Hughes, Jr., of Winnsboro served as IPTAY president in the just passed record-breaking year. Serving with him were George Poole, Jr., of Mullins as vice president and Reeves Gressette, Jr., of Orangeburg as secretary-treasurer. These same officers were re-elected in August to serve another year.

The Maryland Series

The defending Atlantic Coast Conference football champions—the Maryland Terrapins—invade Death Valley this afternoon in hopes of keeping abreast in the 1975 race for the roses, in which they are the co-leader now.

The Terps own a 6-2-1 overall record, and are tied with Duke for the ACC lead, each holding 3-0 marks. Maryland has Clemson and Virginia left while the Blue Devils have N. C. State and North Carolina at home on back-to-back Saturdays. Ironically, Maryland and Duke do not meet this year in what possibly could have been the showdown game for the title.

Clemson and Maryland have met 23 consecutive times, the longest unbroken skein which the Tigers have with another ACC team. And each team has taken its turn with winning streaks.

The Terps won the first four games, before the only tie (6-6) occurred in 1956. Clemson then won two, Maryland took the next three before the Tigers claimed a pair. The Terps won consecutive shutouts next before Clemson went on a six-game winning streak, with Maryland taking the last three to bring the series to 12-10-1 in favor of the Terps.

Maryland comes in today's game leading in five of the 11 major categories of conference statistics. The Terps not only have the scoring offense lead (23.9 points a game), but they also head the scoring defense (11.8).

While their total offense is good enough for third in the league, defense is their ace in the hole. Maryland is the total defense leader (223.8 yards a game) as well as the top dog in rushing defense (128.8 yards). The Terps gave Cincinnati only 95 yards on the ground in 50 rushes.

Maryland is also in front on kickoff returns, averaging nearly 30 yards a return.

This could be a "big play" game because players from both teams have been involved in some of the biggies in the conference this season.

Rick Jennings of Maryland has the longest scoring play of the season—a 96-yard kickoff return against N. C. State. Willie Jordan (to Craig Brantley) has the longest scoring pass—80 yards against Georgia Tech; and Steve Fuller (to Bennie Cunningham) has the longest non-scoring pass of 1975—55 yards against N. C. State.

Mike Sochko of the Terps has the longest field goal (49 yards); while quarterback Mark Manges has the most yards passing (280) in one game as well as the most TD passes thrown (4) in a game.

The two top one-game receivers are also present. John Schultz has the most pass receptions (9) while Joey Walters has the most yards on receptions (115).

One player who was not listed in the top 11 rushers in the conference through November 1st could prove to be a thorn in the Tigers' balloon. He's Jamie Franklin, coming back from being demoted a month ago, who scored all three Terp TDs against Cincinnati in rushing for 117 yards in 21 carries.

Thus, the stage is set for the 24th Tiger-Terp tilt.

A. V. WILLIAMS

RIP HAWKINS

LEO HART

ED MOONEY

BANKS McFADDEN

BUS MALE

JOE DOBNER

A. V. WILLIAMS, Maryland — A native of Nanticoke, Md., A. V. Williams has long been a supporter of Maryland athletics. During his undergraduate days he lettered in football and lacrosse. He was selected as the center on H. C. (Curly) Byrd's all-time Maryland football team. He was graduated in 1917 with a B.S. in Civil Engineering. He is president of Williams Construction Company, one of the largest construction and developing companies in the state of Maryland. He is a member of the Maryland Economic Development Committee and past president of the Maryland Highway Contractors Association. Also, he is a charter member of the Terrapin Club and is the sponsor of the A. V. Williams Award given annually by the M Club to the Maryland athlete who best exemplifies outstanding sportsmanship. He is married and is the father of two and grandfather of two.

RIP HAWKINS, North Carolina — The University of North Carolina has had a long tradition of standout linebackers. One of the very best certainly was Ross Cooper (Rip) Hawkins, who starred on Tar Heel teams from 1958-60. Rip also played center for Carolina, but gained his greatest fame on defense. He was a three-year starter and scourge to opposing offenses. Hawkins also had a brilliant career with the Minnesota Vikings. He was rated one of the best defenders in the NFL. Rip, however, gave up football while at the height of his career. He left the Vikings and returned to school at Emory University to study law. He became a prominent lawyer in Atlanta, but now practices law in Mound, Mont.

LEO HART, Duke — It wasn't long ago that Leo Hart was one of the best known names in Atlantic Coast Conference football. During the late sixties, he dominated the league's passing statistics, setting nearly every conference passing mark, and made the All-Conference teams three years in succession. Well, Hart is back wandering around the Duke campus just as in the old days, but his life is now centered around recruiting the nation's finest student-athletes. He is Duke's head football recruiter. When Leo's pro football career was ended last season due to a shoulder injury, Coach Mike McGee beckoned him back to his alma mater. He was married to the former Anne Welfare of Kinston, N. C., this past May.

ED MOONEY, N. C. State — The last single-wing tailback at N. C. State, Ed Mooney still holds three Wolfpack records despite concluding his college football career in 1950. He holds the Wolfpack record for the longest run from scrimmage (86 yards), the most punts in a game (13), and the most yards in a game on kickoff returns (155 on only 2 returns). Today, he is executive vice president and a partner in Macfield Texturing, Inc., a firm he helped establish. A processor of synthetic filament fibers for knitted outerwear, weaving, and ladies hosiery, Macfield is regarded as one of the leaders in the industry. A two-way player at 173 pounds, Mooney plays tennis four to five times each week and weighs only 180 today. He is married to the former Betty Beauford and has a daughter and a son. Both natives of Eden, N. C., the Mooneys now make their home in Stoneville, N. C.

BANKS McFADDEN, Clemson — Banks McFadden was Clemson's first All-America selection, and he made both the football and basketball teams the same calendar year. Because of his great track ability, setting three state records in one afternoon, he was named the "nation's most versatile athlete" for the 1939-40 school year. After serving 26 years on the Clemson coaching staff, McFadden was named director of intramurals in 1970. Today he heads up a program of 18 sports for Clemson's 10,000 students amidst modern facilities in renovated Fike Field House. Last year nearly 200 basketball teams alone participated in the intramural program. It is not unusual for McFadden to put in a 15-hour day, seven days a week, during the height of the most popular sports.

BUS MALE, Virginia — One of the very few athletes to ever achieve nine varsity letters, Bus Male is currently director of facilities and finances in the Virginia Athletic Department. His 30-year love affair with UVA has included the winning of three varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball during the middle 1930's; assistant football coach; head basketball and baseball coach and his present position, which began in 1956. After his graduation from Virginia in 1938, he spent 10 years at Episcopal High in Alexandria, Va., as a mathematics instructor and head football and basketball coach. His name is still in the Virginia football records as holder of the longest punt return, 100 yards against Maryland in 1935, and the longest pass play, 99 yards against Navy in 1935. He also developed Virginia's first All-America basketball player, Buzzy Wilkinson.

JOE DOBNER, Wake Forest — Even recent Wake Forest football fans remember Joe Dobner, the Deacons' All-Conference center in 1969 and a three-year All-Academic choice. Dobner, after graduation in 1970, entered Wake Forest's Bowman Gray School of Medicine. He graduated from Bowman Gray as a member of the Alpha Omega Honor Society in 1974. Having completed a straight surgical internship at Fitzsimmons Army Medical Center at Denver, Colo., he is now a first-year resident in Orthopedic Surgery at Fitzsimmons. He says that, since his football days, he has turned to skiing, tennis and intramural-type sports to keep in shape. But, in his own words, his greatest accomplishment since leaving Wake Forest has been "the birth of our son, Joseph Jr., who will be ready for the 1992 football season at Wake Forest."

After each game during the 1975 season, the Clemson Coaching Staff will select the TIGER OF THE WEEK for his outstanding play and his name will be published here the following home game.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

*Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play;
Here the sons of dear old Clemson,

CHORUS

*Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.*

We're looking for certain majors to become Lieutenants.

Mechanical and civil engineering majors ...
aerospace and aeronautical engineering majors ...
majors in electronics ... computer science ...
mathematics.

The Air Force needs people ... many with the above academic majors. And AFROTC has several different programs where you can fit ... 4-year,

3-year, or 2-year programs. Some offering full scholarships. All offering $100 a month allowance during the last two years of the program. Flying opportunities. And all leading to an Air Force officer's commission, plus advanced education.

If you'd like to cash in on these Air Force benefits, start by looking into the Air Force ROTC.

Put it all together in Air Force ROTC.

A limited edition for friends of the
CLEMSON TIGER

For the discriminating sportsman and collector. A work of art to cherish as you remember the best of times. The exceptional gift for the Clemson fan. "The Clemson Tiger," a dramatic animal sculpture from the prestigious studio of Louis Paul Jonas, Inc., of New York.

An opportunity to our knowledge never before offered to any college or university. Created exclusively for and in cooperation with the Clemson University Athletic Department.

A delicate, anatomically detailed interpretation fashioned from a strong clay-based material called "resilient ceramic."

Individually finished and painted by hand in oil colors by professionally trained artists who produce a unique collection of Limited Editions priced between $350 and $700. Each model in one-tenth scale.

"The Clemson Tiger," base: 14½ x 5 inches, $400.

Only five hundred models will be produced, over approximately thirty months. A few of these models are ready now for immediate delivery.

A special project commissioned by and available exclusively through:

HAMPTON  GALLERY LTD.

See "The Clemson Tiger" and a special showing of many other animal models by Jonas Studios now on display at HAMPTON III GALLERY, LTD.

The faster it spins, the more you spend.

The purpose of that rotating disk on your electric meter is to measure the amount of power being used.

The more you're using, the faster it goes. And the higher your monthly bill will be.

Keep that in mind. And use electricity wisely.

Because whenever you waste power, you waste money.

Full-Time Students Part-Time Firemen, Writers, Traffic Cops, Gofers...

College students have always worked while going to school to help pay for their educations. This is particularly evident during the national economic troubles. The following article was written by Debbie Dunning — herself a former student employe of the University's Public Relations Department.

a senior chemical engineering major from Georgetown, directs traffic at congested areas on campus.

Bud Wilcox is a senior recreation and park administration major from Cayce. His wife, Sandy, also works in the Public Relations Department.

It's 3 a.m. A buzzer sounds and a light blinks in Brown McFadden's dormitory room. There's a fire.

McFadden jumps out of bed and rushes over to the University security station. He is a squadron leader for the volunteer student firemen.

McFadden is one of 2,400 Clemson students who earn close to $2 million working on campus — doing everything from delivering mail and washing dishes to directing traffic.

An electrical engineering major from Rock Hill, McFadden has been employed by the Physical Plant for three years. Student firemen work in regular four-hour shifts fitted to their schedules, and are on volunteer call until 6 a.m.

McFadden "rides shotgun" and mans the radio on one of the fire trucks that zips out of the station. On the scene, just like any other fireman, he battles the blazes.

McFadden says combining a job with college studies gives students more than money in their pockets, though in these inflationary times the money is nothing to sneeze at.

"Working students have an advantage over non-workers when they try to find jobs after graduation," he says, "because the work experience teaches a sense of self-control and responsibility."

Clemson's Physical Plant employs about 60 students during the academic year. Besides fighting fires, they serve as security personnel, repairmen and even assistant engineers. When they have special skills because of their academic background, they are paid at the same rate as a full-time employee.

Roy Rochester, director of the Physical Plant, says the students constitute a good local labor force to fill unusual work schedules. "Once someone is in the regular labor force, he doesn't want to work less than eight hours a day or split his schedule. Students, though, need exactly this type of schedule so they can attend classes."

Mike Kehne of Frederick, Md., who graduated in August, was a student employee. He was a student manager at Harcombe Dining Hall, a job that fitted in well with his studies in administrative management. He supervised some of the 160 students employed by ARA Food Services on the campus.

Kehne, who worked 35 to 40 hours a week, believes students are working more to help pay for their education than to earn spending money. The experience makes a student appreciate his education more, for "he's realizing how much it really costs because he's doing it himself," he says.

Bud Wilcox is one of five students who works for the Public Relations office. He finds about 15 hours a week to work between classes and any free time he has during the day.

Holding a job isn't detrimental to grades, he says. "Knowing how much responsibility he can handle, the student can decide how much work he can take on." According to the senior from Cayce, the working student usually budgets his time better than non-workers and doesn't "goof-off" as much.

His conclusion about working while going to college? "School usually seems more important to a student who gives up free time to work."

CLEMSON

*Alumni Loyalty Fund—
Many Things To Many People*

They are doctors, lawyers, teachers, farmers, businesspersons, military strategists, public servants. They have a lot going for them. They have an opportunity to grow. And their roots are here on this campus. They are former students of this institution in the foothills of South Carolina.

Clemson University has been involved in providing one of this nation's most vital commodities since 1893. Yet, the educational capabilities of Clemson continue to mount, and the University has a vibrant incentive to demonstrate its ability, and an objective yardstick to measure it.

As Clemson University continues its contribution to the development of this state, it remains an indispensable part of its future. Combine capacity, ability and opportunity and you conclude that potential is virtually unlimited.

It is, with your help. Graduates, former students and friends of Clemson are not only a source of pride for the University but a monumental strength in undergirding its educational programs with annual investments in the institution through the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund and other development opportunities at the University.

But greater challenges lie ahead. Knowledge has multiplied beyond comprehension; the domestic and world situations have become unwieldy and precarious. To make sure performance measures up to potential, Clemson University utilizes wisely and frugally every source of aid possible from all sectors of a free society — private citizens and foundations, business and industrial organizations, state and federal governments.

Now, more than ever before, Clemson needs you, your interest, and your investment in education. Now, more than ever before, won't you consider what you can do for Clemson?

Clemson and Stevens...Partners in textiles.

Clemson alumni, students, and faculty are important to Stevens. Tiger alumni continue to help keep Stevens a recognized leader in the international textile market place. Clemson students help Stevens plants near the campus maintain high levels of productivity. Stevens and the textile industry at large benefit each year from the research and recommendations of Clemson faculty and graduate assistants. Clemson and Stevens . . . partners on the campus and in the plants.

Clemson played before almost a half-million football fans last fall, and 251,424 of those grid boosters saw the Tigers' six home games in 1974, for an average of 41,904 per game. The largest home crowd a year ago was the 52,667 total that watched as Clemson whipped arch-rival South Carolina 39-21, and that marked the second largest home crowd ever.

ARA-Slater's philosophy is a unique, systematic approach designed to achieve our most important goal: STUDENT SATISFACTION. This concept is a result of our experience with millions of students. We have the flexibility to understand your needs and the capability to satisfy them.

At Clemson, ARA demonstrates practical, new methods for providing nourishing, well-balanced meals to athletes, students and staff. Our corporate and regional specialists give ARA's dining service manager expert advice in planning menus, purchasing goods, controlling waste, utilizing labor. The support of this team effort is carried out daily in Schilletter Hall and Harcombe Commons, and at the Clemson House Buffeteria. It is our desire to serve students what they want and to accommodate them by providing this same efficient service for special events or festive holiday meals.

We're here to provide the type of service that will benefit the entire school and community. THAT'S WHAT WE THINK A DINING SERVICE IS ALL ABOUT.

Homecoming at Tigertown is always a festive and fun-packed weekend. In addition to the all-student productions at Tigerama the night before the game, the fraternities provide the campus with attractive displays, like the one above, which honors Red Parker, the 1974 Atlantic Coast Conference and State of South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year.

Where the Action is!

When the name of the game is service, you have to be where the action is!

For textiles, the action is in the southeast, and that's why we have just completed a major expansion of our Southeast District Office in Charlotte. Every aspect of this facility — technical service laboratories, warehouse, distribution and customer service — has been expanded and modernized. Where the action is — that's where you will find Sandoz with the service you need, when you need it, and where you need it.

Why not see for yourself?

Come and visit us, and see what the newest in textile customer service facilities can do for you, and why you too will consider us your partner in wet processing operations.

1975-76 CLEMSON BASKETBALL

TIGER OUTLOOK

Nine returning lettermen are back in camp from last year's Clemson basketball team, one that many felt was the best ever in the school's history, as Bill Foster enters his initial year at the Tiger helm.

Heading the list is 7-1 junior center Tree Rollins, a second team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection last winter who led the league in both rebounding (11.7) and blocked shots (119).

Rollins gained some international experience for the second consecutive summer as a member of the first Intercontinental Cup Basketball Team, and then spent the middle part of October in Mexico City at the Pan Am Games.

Last year Clemson raced to a fine 17-11 record, posted its best regular season ACC finish ever with a second place tie, earned its first national ranking ever in both wire service polls, and advanced to its first post-season berth ever with an NIT bid.

But Foster is absent three starters from that team in Jo Jo Bethea and Wayne Croft, both of whom graduated, and Skip Wise, who inked a multi-year three-quarter of a million dollar contract with the Baltimore franchise of the ABA.

Returning with Rollins as a starter is Stan Rome (10.4), who spent the fall with the football team.

Other lettermen back are Colon Abraham (7.1), David Brown (2.9), Jimmy Howell (2.5), and Andy Butchko at the forward spots, and Bruce Harman (1.7) and John Franken (3.0) in the backcourt.

Charlie Rogers (3.9) has served as backup to Rollins for the past two seasons, and he's ready for more duty at center.

Freshmen signees include 6-3 Greg Coles of East Elm-hurst, N. Y., 6-7 Marvin Dickerson of Charleston, and 6-2 Derrick Johnson of Indianapolis, Ind.

The Tigers are talented, however, young — three freshmen, three sophomores, four juniors, and only two seniors. But Foster is working for the right blend to keep Clemson's cage fortunes on a national level of prominence.

IPTAY-- Special Recognition

For the 11th straight year, contributions made to the Clemson IPTAY Club showed an increase over the previous 12 months. Altogether, 10,706 individuals and firms contributed $854,500, which was 114 per cent of the quota initially set.

South Carolina made 115 per cent of its goal, North Carolina 108, Georgia 117 and the remaining states 108.

This was the first time over three quarters of a million dollars was realized and the fourth straight year over a half million dollars came in. Every penny received by IPTAY since its beginning in 1934 has been used for athletic scholarships only.

On the following pages, we have listed those people and business organizations, who are being recognized by their permission, for their interest and continued support of IPTAY.

BEFORE LONG, PEOPLE ARE GOING TO BE TALKING ABOUT LOAD-BEARING BRICK IN THE SAME BREATH WITH MOM'S APPLE PIE.

Given today's economy, architects and builders are going to be praising load-bearing brick for years to come. Because, all things being equal, you can put up a building faster with load-bearing brick than concrete and steel. And you can put it up for less money.

And you don't sacrifice a thing aesthetically.

At Richtex, we're uniquely equipped to help you take advantage of the boom in bearing-wall construction, because we've got a newly automated plant that can turn out all the big brick you need.

So give us a call. And find out what's cooking at Richtex. P.O. Box 3307, Columbia, South Carolina 29230 (803) 786-1260. RICHTEX

BENGAL BABES WELCOME PROSPECTS

Each fall football prospects visiting Clemson are welcomed by a group of 33 campus coeds—the Bengal Babes. Now in its third year, the organization is an integral part of the success of Coach Clyde Wrenn's recruiting staff.

Starting at 10 a.m., on the day of home football games, the coeds, with the coaches, greet the recruits and their families for a morning of conversation. The main objective of the Bengal Babes is to make the visitors feel at home and to answer any questions they may have about campus life. The parents have many inquiries concerning such topics as the academic curriculum, while the boys delve into more pertinent areas—like the male-female ratio at Clemson.

After lunch the girls take the prospects to see the excitement of a Tiger football game of which they may soon be a part. When the game is over and the recruits have finished talking with the players in the dressing room the Bengal Babes may take over again by answering last minute questions or helping with any late problems.

The busy afternoon is over but the Bengal Babes' job is not. One of their goals is to find out all about the recruits' interests, and on Sunday night, Coach Wrenn meets with the girls to hear what they've learned.

The Bengal Babes are indispensable to Coach Wrenn. They not only help him on football weekends, but throughout the year by getting to know the recruits when they visit or through letters filled with news of Clemson. When asked about the Bengal Babes, Coach Wrenn replied: "These girls do a super job of helping recruit. Their love for Clemson is evident in the time and energy spent in the organization."

If a recruit becomes one of the Tigers he finds the Bengal Babes are still behind him. The girls show their Clemson spirit in the weekly decorating of the team's cafeteria and dorm bulletin board during the season, and in other innumerable ways. Occasional study breaks for the team and coaches, plus sending hurt players get well cards are just two more ways that Bengal Babes lift team moral with their 100 per cent support.

Clemson football needs the Bengal Babes, which is just fine with them because as head Bengal Babe Susay Murray put it: "We really enjoy meeting the recruits and showing them Clemson, and if we can help the team at the same time—Terrific!!"

The new Firestone Tire & Rubber Company Plant in Wilson, N.C.

Built with P-R-I-D-E
by

YEARGIN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

At Yeargin we take pride in our work. And we are especially proud of the new steel belted radial passenger tire plant we built for Firestone at Wilson, North Carolina. More than 1,600,000 square feet.

As the builder of this new facility, we handled all aspects of construction with our own craftsmen and supervision — civil, mechanical, and electrical. And we completed the work in record time. The first tire was produced only 8 1/2 months after the ground-breaking in June, 1973.

When you think construction, think Yeargin. We can build it fast; we can save you money; and our quality of workmanship is second to none.
